Town God's Temple

The Shanghai Museum(BoWu Guan) Situated on the Peoples Square in the Huangpu District, the Shanghai Museum is a museum of ancient Chinese art, houses more than 12,000 rare cultural pieces and several items of national importance, including one of three extant specimens of a "transparent" bronze mirror from the Han Dynasty. It has 11 state-of-the-art galleries and 3 special exhibition halls, all encircling a spacious cylindrical atrium. The Museum also exhibits its material in museums both within China and abroad. The museum also has a library collection of more than 200,000 books on Chinese art and history.

Yu Garden(Yu Yuan)

Yu Garden is an important traditional tourist resort in Shanghai, which enjoys the reputation of "the crown of beauty in southeast China". Most exquisitely decked out, the garden offers charming and pleasant views. With noble flora and exotic rocks setting off each other, it serves as a perfect model of "famous garden of Jiangnan". Inside the garden there is the site of the famous uprising of Shanghai's Small Sword Society in Qing Dynasty. The famous scenic spots of the garden include the Wall of Cloud Piercing Dragon, Spring Transforming Hall, Yu Linglong (Jade Exquisite), Moon Appreciating Pavilion, Ancient Performance Stage and Grand Rockery.

Town God's Temple(ChengHuang Miao)

Shanghai Town God's Temple is located in Shanghai City, the most prosperous of the most prestigious Yu Garden scenic area, is an important Taoist temple in Shanghai, was built in the Ming Dynasty Yongle (1403-1424), now has nearly six hundred years of history. The rain Cang sang, the change of dynasties, Shanghai Town God's Temple also experienced the rise and fall. During the Ming Dynasty, Zhangshouyue, the head of Shanghai County, dedicated a temple to the local city god. Since then, the City God's Temple has been destroyed several times and the current temple was built in 1926. During the the war of resistance against Japanese invasion during World War II, local merchants built a new City God's Temple in the Foreign Concession (between Lianyung Road and West Jinling Road). That area is now a high-rise residence building. The "former" temple is known as the Old City God's Temple. The Old City God's Temple and the enclosure Yuyuan are not only famous tourist sites but also popular shopping attractions. There are boutiques, shops selling local specialties, as well as large jewelry stores, department stores and fabulous local snack restaurants to be found here.
