Fubo Hill(FuBo Shan)

Situated in the westside of Li River, Fubo Hill is 63 meters high, 60 meters wide, 213 meter high above the sea level. It is a solitary peak, standing elegantly half on land and half on water. As the water flows by the hill causes it to swirl, from which comes its name "Wave-Subduing" Hill. The beautiful Fubo Hill has many interesting sights in it. On the right side of park near River, found rice pot, it is big enough to cook for 1000 people at a time. Southern part of the hill is a garden full of bamboos, palm trees and flowers. On the southern slope of the Hill is Returned Pearl Cave, 1000 year-old Buddha images are etched into the wall of the cave and along with over 200 images of Buddha, most dating from the Song and Tang Dynasties. You can see Mifu self-portrait, a famous painter and calligraphist in Song dynasty. On the western side near the Returned Pearl Cave, there is stone stairway up to the Kuishui Pavilion and to the top. From there, one may have a birds-eye view of the Li River.

Reed Flute Cave(LuDi Yan)

Known as "the Palace of Natural Arts", Reed Flute Cave is located in the northwest of Guilin City, 5 kilometers away from the center of the city. It is a natural limestone cave and has been one of Guilin's most interesting attractions for over 1200 years. Tourists began to visit here in the Tang Dynasty. There are 77 stone inscriptions covering many years of history. The cave got its name from the type of reed growing outside, which can be made into melodious flutes. It is filled with a large number of stalactites, stalagmites and rock formations in weird and wonderful shapes. The cave was opened to public in 1962 and illuminated by colored lighting, the fantastic spectacle is found in many variations along this 240-meter-long cave.

Pearl Museum(NanZhu BoWuGuan)

Pearl Museum to promote the pearl culture spirit, to create a beautiful Pearl City for the purpose of the whole comprehensive museum of Pearl "reproduction history and beautiful culture, the spirit of tolerance". It will actively promote the pearl industry development, remodeling brilliant pearl.

Elephant Trunk Hill (Xiangbi Shan)

Standing majestically at the confluence of the Li River and Taohua River, Elephant Trunk Hill is one of the Lijiang Rivers most famous sights. It looks like an elephant, dipping its snout into the Lijiang River, hence the name "Elephant Trunk Hill". With a fabulous scenic view, the Elephant-trunk Hill is an outstanding tourist attraction even in early Tang and Song dynasties.

The hill towers 55 meters above the Lijiang River and stands 108 meters tall. Atop the hill, there is a pagoda with a history of more than 400 years, surrounded by hundreds of osmanthus trees.
