

1 Day Guilin Li River

Route Summary

As the elite of the Guilin landscape, Li River is a bright pearl among China's beautiful mountains and rivers. It is originated from Maoer Mountain at Xingan County, northeast of Guilin. The landscape is decorated with sloping hills, steep cliffs, enchanting caves and farming villages and the river is lined with bamboo. The segment of Li River from Guilin City to Yangshuo City, which is nearly 100 km long, looks like a green silk belt, winding among the peaks and the chains of mountains. The miraculous peaks, green mountains and blue waters mutually embellish, just as a 100-kilometer-long Chinese traditional gallery. As a Chinese poem goes "the river is a green silk ribbon, and the hills are jade hairpins".

Day 1

Meeting tour guide at hotel, drive to MoPanShan wharf, then take cruise on the Li River.

Li River (Li Jiang) originates in Mountain Cat in the north of Guilin. It flows southeast for about 438 km before joining the Pearl River in Guangdong Province. Crystal clear water, spectacular Karst hills, small traditional villages, water buffalos and cormorants are what the amazing Li River shows us. After an 63 km fantastic cruise from Guilin city to Yangshuo, you will believe that "Guilin has the most beautiful scenery under the heaven", and you will also find that the traditional Chinese paintings are nothing from imagination but real things.
